

Biography

Dr Denitsa Petrova

Denitsa Petrova is a Lecturer in Digital Media and an Associate Director of the Masters Programme in Digital Media Design (Online) at the University of Edinburgh. She is a practicing designer and artist and she has exhibited internationally in Europe and in the USA. She is an experienced tutor in delivering online courses in the field of digital arts, digital media design and critical and cultural studies. She has published on topics of collaborative learning, shared virtual studio and the flipped classroom model. She speaks and writes about online pedagogy and digital media tools for education at international conferences and events.